American Marazzi Tile has been a U.S. manufacturer of exceptional tile for over 30 years, serving designers, architects, and homeowners. Tapping a new market in 1982, Filippo Marazzi expanded his business opening the first Italian-owned ceramic manufacturing plant in the U.S. in Sunnyvale, Texas.

Continued growth for the company and faith in the American economy brought Marazzi to the decision to invest in the new plant. This 321, 570 sf plant expansion is a multi-level manufacturing facility and was completed in just 15 months.

Nucor Classic Wall™ panel was used on the exterior with 7 foot tilt wall wainscoting. Nucor Translucent Wall Panels allow natural lighting in the plant. The building features 54 ton hydraulic cranes, 140' clearspans and a Nucor CFR™ standing seam roof system.
