The structure's design is a harmonious blend of beauty and warmth, marrying modern architectural elements with the timeless essence of a church. Covering an area of over 14,000 sf, Rock Harbor Church is thoughtfully divided into classroom and administration spaces, along with a central worship area.

The exterior walls showcase light stone accents that beautifully contrast with Nucor's royal blue R-Panels, contributing to its contemporary and polished look. The roof features Nucor's Loc Seam 360, ensuring a secure and weather-resistant enclosure. Inside, the main area is enhanced by two partition walls and a mezzanine, providing flexibility and additional space. An extended eave enhances the office space, and parapet walls were also included in the design.
